

Nollenberger Capital Partners Welcomes Curtis L. Mo to its Advisory Committee

SAN FRANCISCO, March 3, 2008 – Nollenberger Capital Partners, Inc. (NCPI), a privately held investment banking and investment advisory firm, today announced that Curtis L. Mo has joined its Advisory Committee.

“Curtis’ expertise as a corporate and securities attorney will bring a new depth to our Advisory Committee,” said Bruce Nollenberger, President and CEO of Nollenberger Capital Partners. “We are privileged to have someone with such experience and insight join the team.”

Mr. Mo is currently a Partner in the Corporate Practice Group at the law firm Wilmer Hale, where he has been since 2005. His depth of representation includes emerging growth companies, major public companies, investment banks, venture capital funds and private equity funds in hundreds of public offerings, mergers and acquisitions, buyouts, venture capital financings and other similar transactions. Mr. Mo also has vast experience in corporate governance. He often acts as general outside counsel to public and private companies at all stages of development. Representative clients have included many top-tier investment banks and venture capital funds.

During his spare time, Mr. Mo shares his expertise by lecturing at the Practicing Law Institute and in front of other professional groups. Mr. Mo has given legal commentary on emerging growth companies and the technology sector for CNN Moneyline, CNBC Business Center and other various publications.

He serves a number of community organizations, including as a member of the board of directors of the Joint Venture: Silicon Valley Network. Mr. Mo is the founder and co-chair of PLI’s Advanced Venture Capital conference, served as co-chair of the Annual Institute on Securities Regulation from 2001-2006, and has been a member of the advisory board for the Annual Securities Regulation Institute in San Diego.

Mr. Mo received his undergraduate degree from Columbia University. He then went on to earn his law degree at Columbia Law School, where he was a Harlan Fiske Stone Scholar. Mr. Mo is licensed to practice law in California and New York.
